

Advocacy Writing Competition: We are taking submissions for the Annual Advocacy Writing Competition through February 1, 2024.

- Each contestant should enter an article related to teaching advocacy skills or discussing contemporary issues related to oral and written advocacy. Submissions must be 3,000 to 10,000 words with no more than 99 footnotes, single spaced, and in 12-point font. Articles must be submitted to advocacy@law.stetson.edu to be considered.
- The winner of the competition will present their winning article or a topic related to the article at the annual Educating Advocacy Teachers Conference (EATS) scheduled to take place at Stetson from June 10 to 12, 2024. The winner will also receive an award of $1,000.00 and be guaranteed publication in the Stetson Journal of Advocacy and the Law.

This competition is open to legal practitioners, judges, professors, and law students. Please spread the word!
