

The UCLA Disability Law Journal recognizes the best student scholarship in the field of Disability Law. Submissions should focus on a cutting-edge legal issue affecting individuals and communities with disabilities. The winning Note will be published in the forthcoming sixth volume of the Journal.

Competition Rules: The competition is open to all students enrolled in an ABA-accredited law school during the 2023-2024 academic year. Submissions must follow standard Note format, including Bluebook (21st ed.) citation form, and must be in English. Entries must be no longer than 60 single-sided pages with one-inch margins and 14-point Arial typeface, double-spaced. The page limit includes footnotes. Submissions should not have been previously published or scheduled for publication. Submissions are promised exclusive to the Disability Law Journal until January 25, 2024.

Submission Deadline Friday, December 22, 2023 at 10:00 PM PST
Submit as .doc or .docx to DLJ@lawnet.ucla.edu

For more information:
Contact Alexis Russell at
(847) 452-7221
Russell2024@lawnet.ucla.edu