

International Consortium for Global Legal Education:

2016 Faculty Training Workshop Schedule

COVERED TOPICS:

Active Classroom Learning Methodologies

Experiential Learning/Teaching

Collaborative Learning Techniques

Use of Rubrics

Contact Information:

Dr. David Cohen. davicohe@nova.edu +1 954.864.6509

Associate Dean
Catherine Arcabascio
arcabasc@nova.edu
+1 305.205.7050

All sessions will be held at the Carl DeSantis Building, Huizenga School of Business and Entrepreneurship

Monday July 18, 2016 – Room 3000

3:30 pm

Registration and Check-In

4:00 pm

- Welcome by Associate Dean Catherine Arcabascio
- Opening Remarks by Dean Jon Garon and Lead Facilitators Professor Michael Dale and Professor Olympia Duhart

4:30-5:00 pm:

Overview of Recent Changes in U.S. Legal Education /International Implications

5:00-6:00 pm:

Group Exercise- Identifying Objectives and Challenges (Prof. Duhart)

6:00-8:00 pm

Opening Dinner

Tuesday July 19, 2016

9:30-10:00 am - Atrium

Breakfast

10:00 -11:00 am - Room 2071

Re-Imagining the Foundational Classes (Profs. Arcabascio & Duhart)

11:00-12:30 pm - Room 2071

Group Exercise: Active Teaching Methods (Prof. Lamar)

12:30-1:15pm - Atrium

Lunch

1:15-2:45 pm – Rooms 2071

Discovering New Ways to Use Technology (Profs. Garon, Stephan, & Teppler)

2:45-3:45 pm - Rooms 2071

 Group Exercise: Assessing Student Learning: Incorporating Rubrics and Collaboration in the Classroom (Prof. Duhart)

3:45-5:00 pm - Rooms 2071

 Roundtable/Panel Breakout Session: Learning From Each Other...Techniques From Around the World (All Participants)

Evening Free
Wednesday July 20, 2016

9:30-10:00 am - Atrium

Breakfast

10:00-11:30 am – Room 2071 (Breakout sessions also will occur in 2067 and 2073)

- Building Skills Courses Designed to Teach Students How To "Do."
- Describing and Employing the National Institute for Trial Advocacy's (NITA)
 "Learning by Doing" Model (Profs. Dale, Flynn, Untiedt & Webber)

11:30-12:30 pm - Room 2071 (Breakout sessions will occur in 2067 and 2073)

 Group Exercise: Trial Skills Using NITA Critique Model (Profs. Dale, Flynn, Untiedt & Webber)

12:30-1:15 pm

Lunch

1:15-2:45 pm - Room 2071 (Breakout sessions also will occur in 2067 and 2073)

 Group Exercise: Teaching Oral Argument Using NITA Critique Model (Profs. Dale, Flynn, Untiedt & Webber)

2:45-3:45 pm - Room 2071 (Breakout sessions also will occur in 2067 and 2073)

 Using Video Review and Drills in the Classroom (Profs. Dale, Flynn, Untiedt & Webber)

3:45-5:00 pm - Room 2071 (Breakout sessions also will occur in 2067 and 2073)

• Group Exercise: Applying Video Reviews and Drills in a Classroom Setting (Profs. Dale, Flynn, Untiedt & Webber)

6-8:00 pm - Atrium

Dinner

Thursday July 21, 2016

9:30-10:00 am - Atrium

Breakfast

10:00-11:00 am - Room 1133

• Experiential Learning in Transactional Classes (Prof. Cross)

11:15-12:30 pm – Room 1133

• Group Exercise: Drafting in the Classroom (Profs. Cerminara & Uzdavines)

12:30-1:30 pm - Atrium

Lunch

1:30-2:00pm - Room 1133

• Reflections/Closing

2016 Faculty Training Workshop Faculty

Catherine Arcabascio

Catherine Arcabascio is Associate Dean for International Programs and oversees Nova Southeastern University Shepard Broad College of Law's study abroad and dual degree programs around the world. She also is the Managing Director of the International Consortium for Global Legal Education. She has been a professor of law since 1993, and currently teaches criminal law and criminal procedure. Dean Arcabascio also served as a director of the Shepard Broad College of Law Criminal Justice Clinic for more than a decade.

Dean Arcabascio's areas of scholarly interests include criminal law, criminal procedure, scientific evidence, clinical legal education, experiential learning, and the transnational practice of law. She is a published author of various scholarly articles and recently completed a co-authored Criminal Law text, which will be published by Carolina Academic Press in 2016. Currently, she also is co-writing an article entitled, "Freedom of Assembly in Support of Civic Innovation: Comparative Perspectives from Italy and the United States," and writing an article entitled, "The European Union's Mobility of Lawyers Requirement and the United States' Uniform Bar Examination: Rationales and Comparative Consequences." Dean Arcabascio also has been a guest speaker at numerous national and international conferences, including a presentation in Rome, Italy in June 2013 on the adoption of the U.S. clinic model in European law schools and the benefits of experiential learning.

Additionally, Dean Arcabascio is the co-founder of the Florida Innocence Project, a pro bono organization that represented individuals who maintained that they were wrongfully convicted. The work of that organization and Shepard Broad College of Law students resulted in changes to Florida laws governing DNA testing, the investigation of hundreds of wrongful conviction claims, and the exoneration and release of two wrongfully-convicted individuals in the State of Florida.

Before joining the faculty at Shepard Broad College of Law, she worked as an assistant district attorney in Brooklyn, New York and as a litigation associate at the law firm of Shutts & Bowen in Miami. Dean Arcabascio received her J.D. from Boston College Law School and her B.A. in Journalism from New York University. During her time at Boston College, Dean Arcabascio served as a student law clerk for the Honorable William G. Young of the United States District Court, District of Massachusetts and then later as a student law clerk for the United States Attorney's Office, Southern District of New York. She is a member of the Massachusetts, New York and Florida Bars.

Kathy Cerminara

Professor Kathy Cerminara bridges the medical and legal professions with her work on patients' rights in the end-of-life decision-making arena. She co-authors the nationally known treatise, The Right to Die: The Law of End-of-Life Decisionmaking, and is a reviewer for several medical and medical-legal journals. Her scholarship most recently has focused on the intersection between end-of-life care, palliative care, and health care coverage policy. At the Nova Southeastern University Shepard Broad Law Center, she is a full professor and serves as Director of Faculty Development.

Professor Cerminara teaches Torts; Health Policy, Bioethics & Quality of Care; Administrative Law; Civil Procedure; Bioethics; and other health-law-related courses. She also created and was the initial director of the online Master of Science in Health Law program for non-lawyers.

Since 2012, she has been a member of the International Scientific Committee for the International Academy of Law & Mental Health, based in Montreal, Canada. In that position, she has co-organized the stream of therapeutic jurisprudence presentations for three of the Academy's bi-annual Congresses: one in Amsterdam in 2013, one in Vienna in 2015, and one upcoming in Prague in 2017.

Prior to joining the College of Law faculty, Professor Cerminara taught at St. Thomas University School of Law and the University of Miami School of Law, clerked in the Western District of Pennsylvania and the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit, and practiced law with Reed Smith Shaw & McClay in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Professor Cerminara received her J.D. magna cum laude from the University of Pittsburgh and her LL.M. and J.S.D. from Columbia University. She is an affiliate member of the Health Law and Tort Trial and Insurance sections of The Florida Bar, a retired member of the Pennsylvania Bar, and a member of organizations such as the American Bar Association, the American Society of Law, Medicine & Ethics and the American Health Lawyers Association.

Jane E. Cross

Jane E. Cross is an Associate Professor of Law and Director of the Caribbean Law Programs. She received her B.A. in International Relations. While in law school, she was Note Editor for the Michigan Yearbook of International Legal Studies.

She is presently President, an Executive Committee Member and an Advisory Board Member for the American and Caribbean Law Initiative ("ACLI"). In 2004, she coordinated the first ACLI Summer Conference entitled "Caribbean Market Forces: Emerging Trends in International and Comparative Law." She also serves on the Board of Directors of the Inter-American Center for Human Rights.

In conjunction with the ACLI, she coordinates the American and Caribbean Law Clinic at NSU Shepard Broad College of Law and teaches the Selected Issues in Caribbean Law Workshop.

In 2010-2011, Professor Cross served as the President of Southeast/Southwest People of Color Legal Scholarship Conference and Conference Chair for the first Joint Meeting of the Southeast/Southwest and Midwest People of Color Legal Scholarship Conference on March 31-April 3, 2011. The theme of the conference was the Role of the Law in Fostering Social, Political and Economic Equality.

In fall 2004, she served as the Faculty Chair of the Goodwin Seminar. In that capacity, she will organize a seminar series entitled "Tradewinds in Caribbean Law: Evolution of Legal Norms and Quest for Independent Justice."

She also regularly teaches Lawyering Skills and Values and Negotiable Instruments. She currently serves as a course creator for Negotiable Instruments Law in the Online AAMPLE ® Program. Professor Cross has also taught Comparative Commonwealth Caribbean Legal Systems: A Human Rights Approach during the Cayman Islands Winter Break Program for Stetson University School of Law and the ACLI.

Professor Cross also serves as faculty advisor to the Caribbean Law Students Association.

She is admitted to the Bar in New York, Illinois and Florida.

Michael J. Dale

Professor Michael J. Dale has been a member of the faculty at Nova Southeastern University Shepard Broad College of Law in Fort Lauderdale, Florida since 1985, teaching courses in family law, juvenile law and in the family and juvenile clinic. He also teaches litigation courses including civil procedure, conflicts of laws, evidence, trial advocacy and international litigation. Before joining the Nova faculty, Professor Dale spent time in private law practice in Phoenix and was Executive Director of the Youth Law Center in San Francisco after serving as Attorney in Charge of the Special Litigation Unit of the Juvenile Rights Division of the Legal Aid Society of the City of New York. He has been a practicing lawyer specializing in civil rights litigation for 40 years. He is admitted to practice in the states of Arizona, Florida, New Mexico and New York as well as before the United States Supreme Court and numerous federal appellate and district courts.

Professor Dale teaches in National Institute for Trial Advocacy programs in both public and in-house settings. He also focuses on NITA programs concerning children including trainings held in Denver, Phoenix, Los Angeles, Boston, Utah, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Illinois, New Jersey, New Mexico, Philadelphia at the University of Pennsylvania, New York at Hofstra University and Houston at the University of Houston. For the past 24 years he has been program director for the NITA Florida Deposition Program. In 2009 Professor Dale received the Robert Oliphant Award from NITA for his service to the organization. An active litigator himself, he has been a consultant to federal and state agencies on civil rights issues and to law firms on litigation matters.

Professor Dale is the author of over seventy-five articles focusing primarily on juvenile and children's law topics. He is also the author of the two volume text, representing the Child Client, published by Matthew Bender Co. He speaks regularly to professional groups on children's law and litigation topics.

Olympia Duhart

Professor Olympia Duhart teaches Legal Research and Writing (LRW), Constitutional Law and First Amendment Law at the Shepard Broad College of Law at Nova Southeastern University. She is also Director of the LRW Program, and Director of Faculty Development.

Professor Duhart recently served as Co-President of the Society of American Law Teachers, a national organization dedicated to diversity, academic excellence and social justice. She served as Co-President from 2014 to 2016 with Professor Ruben Garcia of University of Nevada -- Las Vegas. Professor Duhart serves on the Board of Advisors for the Institute for Law Teaching and Learning. She was recently appointed to serve on the AALS Committee on the Recruitment and Retention of Minority Law Teachers and Students. She was also appointed to the American Bar Association's Section on Legal Education Publications Committee. She is active in both the Association of Legal Writing Directors and the Legal Writing Institute, where she chairs the Administrative Operations Committee. In addition, Professor Duhart volunteers with the FLITE Center, where she teaches creative writing and language arts to young adults in Broward's dependency system.

Before joining the faculty at Nova, Professor Duhart worked at Ruden McClosky and volunteered with the Florida Innocence Project. She also taught high school English and Creative Writing. Professor Duhart has worked as a staff reporter for The Miami Herald. She continues to engage the public through her contributions to online publications; she has been published in the SALTLAW blog, The Huffington Post and The New York Times. She also presents around the country on teaching methods and assessment. Her scholarship is in the area of teaching methods, assessment and vulnerable communities.

Professor Duhart was recognized by the Association of American Law Schools Award as a Teacher of the Year in 2009 and 2012. She was also named Professor of the Year by the NSU Student Bar Association in 2012. In 2014, Professor Duhart won the Stephanie Aleong Impact Award, which recognizes a faculty member who has had an impact on a law student who exemplifies compassion, industry and community service. Professor Duhart received her JD from Nova Southeastern University Shepard Broad College of Law and her BA in English from the University of Miami. She grew up in Liberty City.

Michael Flynn

Professor Flynn, a native of Seattle Washington, teaches courses in personal injury law, including Torts, Medical Malpractice and Product Liability as well as courses in Consumer Protection Law and The Uniform Commercial Code. In addition, Professor Flynn help develop and has taught the Pre-Trial Practice class and teaches classes in Civil Procedure and lawyering skills including Trial Advocacy and Interviewing, Counseling and Negotiation. Professor Flynn also created and teaches courses in the Masters in Health Law and Masters in Education Law online programs offered at the law school. Professor Flynn created and is the Director of the only Personal Injury Litigation Clinic offered by any law school and is the Director of the Consumer Protection Clinic as well.

Professor Flynn is a graduate of the Gonzaga University School of Law and is the Chair of the Consumer Protection Board for Broward County and a member of the Broward County Justice Association, The American Justice Association, The Trial Lawyers Section of the Florida Bar and is licensed to practice in both the state and federal courts in Washington State and Florida. Professor Flynn is a Faculty Member and Program Director for NITA, The National Institute for Trial Advocacy, and a frequent presenter at professional conferences and symposiums. Professor Flynn has authored more than forty publications and is coauthor of two editions of the book, The Legal Aspects of Public Purchasing.

Jon M. Garon

Jon M. Garon is dean of Nova Southeastern University Shepard Broad College of Law. Dean Garon serves as chief academic officer for the law school, providing strategic leadership on programming, curriculum, enrollment management, marketing, and finance. He is a nationally recognized authority on technology law and intellectual property, particularly copyright law, entertainment and information privacy. A Minnesota native, he received his bachelor's degree from the University of Minnesota in 1985 and his juris doctor degree from Columbia University School of Law in 1988.

Prior to joining Nova Southeastern University in 2014, Garon was the inaugural director of the Northern Kentucky University Salmon P. Chase College of Law, Law + Informatics Institute from 2011-2014. The Law + Informatics Institute serves to integrate the specialized programming on technology and information systems as they apply across legal disciplines. A tenured member of the law faculty, Garon taught Information Privacy Law, Cyberspace Law, Copyright Law, Entertainment Law, and related courses.

Garon served as dean and professor of law at Hamline University School of Law in St. Paul, Minnesota. He was professor of law from 2003 to 2011, dean of the Law School from 2003 to 2008 and Interim Dean of the Graduate School of Management from 2005 to 2006. Before Hamline, Garon taught Entertainment Law and Copyright at Franklin Pierce Law Center in Concord, New Hampshire and Western State University College of Law in Orange County, California.

Among his numerous accomplishments, Garon has held key leadership positions as past chair of both the American Bar Association's Law School Administration Committee and the Association of American Law Schools Section on Part-Time Legal Education. His teaching and scholarship often focus on business innovation and structural change to media, education and content-based industries. He is the author of three books and numerous book chapters and articles, including The Independent Filmmaker's Law & Business Guide to Financing, Shooting, and Distributing Independent and Digital Films (A Cappella Books, 2d Ed. 2009); Own It – The Law & Business Guide to Launching a New Business Through Innovation, Exclusivity and Relevance (Carolina Academic Press 2007); and Entertainment Law &

Practice (2d Ed. 2014 Carolina Academic Press). Additionally, he has presented at more than 60 forums across the U.S.

Camille Lamar

P. Camille Lamar is a Professor at Nova Southeastern University, Shepard Broad College of Law where she teaches Lawyering Skills & Values I and II. Prior to joining the faculty at the College of Law, Professor Lamar was an adjunct professor at the Miles College School of Law where she designed the school's first comprehensive legal research and writing curriculum. A member of the bar since 1996, Professor Lamar has broad practice experience in a variety of legal areas. For seven years, Professor Lamar worked for the federal judiciary, first as a law clerk for a United States Magistrate Judge and then, as a staff attorney for a United States District Judge. In both positions, Professor Lamar prepared memorandum opinions on a broad spectrum of federal litigation, including school desegregation cases, civil rights cases, securities class actions, and employment discrimination cases. While in private practice, Professor Lamar represented tenured teachers, school administrators, and educational support staff on behalf of the Alabama Education Association.

Professor Lamar also prosecuted misdemeanor cases and de novo appeals as an Assistant City Prosecutor for the City of Anniston, Alabama. Professor Lamar's scholarship interests focus primarily on Learning Theory and Education Law, particularly issues relating to equity in funding and educational opportunities for disabled and economically disadvantaged students.

Susan H. Stephan

Susan H. Stephan serves as serves as Director of Development and Adjunct Faculty at NSU's Shepard Broad College of Law. She practiced law for more than 20 years, with a focus on legal challenges involving intellectual property, e-commerce and the Internet, and general corporate legal matters on behalf of individual and business clients. She has taught as adjunct faculty since 2001 in areas including antitrust, intellectual property, pretrial skills and law & economics.

Susan graduated from Hamline University School of Law in 1992. She received her Bachelor's degree from Northwestern University and a Master of Arts in Interdisciplinary Studies from New York University

Steven Teppler

Adjunct Professor Teppler is currently a Partner at Abbott Law Group, PA in Jacksonville, Florida, where he leads the firm's electronic discovery and technology based litigation practice and frequently co-counsels with other attorneys on electronic discovery issues. He has practiced law since 1981 and is admitted to the bars of New York, the District of Columbia, Florida, and Illinois. Additionally, he is admitted into the U.S. Courts of Appeal for the Second, Eleventh, and District of Columbia Circuits, as well the United States Supreme Court.

Professor Teppler's practice focus is on electronic discovery, including production, preservation, and spoliation matters, and he advises clients about risk, liability, and compliance issues unique to information governance. His experience includes Federal and state court litigation matters, both against and on behalf of Fortune 500 companies, as well as probate and family law disputes where electronic discovery is critically implicated.

Professor Teppler is an active member of the national and state bar associations, and he holds six patents in the field of content authentication and is the founder and CEO of a content authentication provider. He's an adjunct professor at the Ave Maria School of Law, teaching electronic discovery, and he also lectures nationwide on evolving theories of information governance and electronic discovery.

Marilyn L. Uzdavines

Marilyn L. Uzdavines, J.D., is an Assistant Professor of Law at Nova Southeastern University Shepard Broad College of Law. She primarily teaches in the area of health care practice and regulation. She teaches J.D. courses in Health Care Compliance, Health Care Organizations, Regulations, and Access, Real Estate Transactions, and other health-related courses. She also teaches Pharmaceutical Law, Legal Perspectives in Health Care Ethics, and Regulatory Compliance in the Nova Southeastern University online Master of Science in Health Law program. Her scholarship explores the regulation of developing areas of medical practice. Professor Uzdavines has spoken at numerous national academic conferences throughout the United States, including the Society of American Law Teacher's Conference and the Health Law Professors Conference.

Professor Uzdavines graduated magna cum laude with a bachelor's degree in political science from the University of Florida and magna cum laude with her law degree from the University of Florida Levin College of Law. In law school, she served as Symposium Editor on the Florida Law Review, and was named a member of the Order of the Coif. She also served as a judicial extern to the Honorable Judge Susan Bucklew in the Middle District of Florida. After law school, she joined the international firm of Holland & Knight, LLC in Tampa, Florida where she practiced corporate law. She later opened the firm, Uzdavines Law Group, P.A. in Clearwater, Florida where she practiced transactional law.

Prior to joining the Nova Southeastern University Shepard Broad College of Law faculty, Professor Uzdavines spent one year as a visiting professor at Stetson College of Law. At Nova Southeastern University Shepard Broad College of Law, she has served as faculty coadvisor for the Hispanic Law Student Association and the PULSE! Health Law Student Association. Additionally, she served on the Masters of Science Online Curriculum Task Force and the College of Law's Governance Committee. She is a member of the Florida Bar and a member of the Florida Bar Committee on Diversity and Inclusion.

Kate Webber

Professor Kate Webber became a full time faculty member of the NSU College of Law in 2010. Her courses include: Employment Discrimination, Business Entities, Securities Regulation, Civil Procedure, Remedies, and Legal Research and Writing. Professor Webber also teaches a number of courses in the NSU Law Master's in Employment Law program. Professor Webber has served as faculty in the National Institute of Trial Advocacy's deposition skills program since 2010.

Professor Webber's scholarship draws on political science theory to analyze federal employment discrimination law. Her works have appeared in the University of Southern California Interdisciplinary Law Journal, the "Title VII at 50" Symposium issue of St. John's Law Review, and the Columbia Journal of Gender and Law. She has presented at both legal and political science conferences including presentations at the Midwest Political Science Association's Annual Conference in both 2014 and 2015.

Prior to entering academia, Professor Webber enjoyed a ten year career as an employment litigator in New York City, including time as an associate at Proskauer Rose LLP. Her most recent practice was as a partner at a boutique employment law firm representing plaintiffs in high-profile discrimination lawsuits. Notable cases included Nurse v. Concepts in Staffing (S.D.N.Y. 2007), a race and gender discrimination suit resulting in a $1.2 million jury verdict, and Hart v. Dresdner (S.D.N.Y. 2006), a proposed class action gender discrimination case brought on behalf of six women in the financial industry. Professor Webber has commented on employment law issues in a wide range of publications and broadcasts, including appearances on CNBC's "On the Money" and The Gail King Show of Oprah and Friends Radio.

Professor Webber graduated from the University of Pennsylvania Law School where she served as an executive editor of the Journal of International Economic Law and a member of the Moot Court Board. During law school, she received the Samuel F. Pryor, III, Award for Most Distinguished Comment. Professor Webber received her undergraduate degree in Political Science, cum laude, from Tufts University.

Whitney M. Untiedt

Partner Director of Pro Bono Initiatives

Three Brickell City Centre 98 Southeast Seventh Street Suite 1100 Miami, FL 33131

Tel: 305.374.5600 Fax: 305.374.5095

whitney.untiedt@akerman.com

Education

J.D., University of Florida Levin College of Law, 2005; cum laude

B.A., College of William and Mary, 1999; James Monroe Academic Scholar Whitney Untiedt is a partner in the Miami office and Akerman's Director of Pro Bono Initiatives. She supervises the firm's many pro bono programs, and develops strategic partnerships and collaborations that align with Akerman's philanthropic focus on education and youth development. Prior to joining Akerman, Whitney spent a year as an Equal Justice Works AmeriCorps Legal Fellow, followed by nine years as an Assistant Public Defender in Florida, where she developed a specialized practice focusing on the representation of high-risk juveniles involved in delinquency and dependency proceedings. Whitney is co-director of the Southern Juvenile Defender Center, a member of the Florida Children's Justice Act Task Force, and immediate past chair of the Florida Juvenile Court Rules Committee. Whitney speaks regularly on issues of child advocacy, professional responsibility, and general litigation practice.

Areas of Experience

AkermanIN at The LAB Miami

Awards & Recognition

- The Florida Bar Leadership Academy, Class I Fellow
- National Institute for Trial Advocacy Next Generation Award

- Daily Business Review, 2016, Lawyer of the Year
- Daily Business Review, 2015, Most Effective Lawyer Finalist for Pro Bono

Published Work & Lectures

- The Florida Bar Juvenile Law and Practice Manual, Author, "The Role of the Lawyer"
- John Marshall Law School D'Agostino Symposium, Panel Moderator, "Decreasing Youth Incarceration," March 2015
- National Institute for Trial Advocacy, San Juan PR Deposition Skills Program, Faculty & Lecturer, March 2015
- U.S. Department of Justice Office on Violence Against Women, Advanced Experts Program, Faculty, December 2014
- Florida Public Defender Conference, Juvenile Track Program Director, 2013 & 2014
- National Juvenile Defender Center Summit, Presenter & Caucus Facilitator, 2013 & 2014
- UF Law Center for Children & Families, Accredited Contributor,
 "Juvenile Justice Handbook"

Professional Memberships & Activities

- American Bar Association, Member
- The Florida Bar, Criminal Law Section; Public Interest Section; Standing Committee on Professionalism; Juvenile Court Rules Committee; Eighth Judicial Circuit Grievance Committee
- Association of Pro Bono Counsel, Member
- National Juvenile Defender Center, National Advisory Board
- Southern Juvenile Defender Center, Co-Director
- National Institute for Trial Advocacy, Faculty
- University of Florida Law Alumni Council, Board of Directors
- University of Florida Center on Children and Families, Affiliate